

claim program assessments

How accurate are current liability reserves? Looking to avoid unpleasant financial surprises from a liability claim? Sedgwick's claim program assessments can provide you the confidence you need for financial stability.

Trusted solutions

Over the past 40 years, Sedgwick's auditing and consulting services have provided financial peace of mind to the executive leadership of both large and small organizations. These services include:

- Pre- and post-underwriting audits to assure risks are consistent with representations in insurance application.
- Best practice audits with a skills assessment of the client's claims staff, including quality of investigations, accuracy of reserving and extent of involvement with the management of matters in litigation.
- High exposure claim audit for excess carrier confidence, renewal or attachment determination.
- Professional and healthcare-related general liability reserve certification, pre-actuarial or for-premium calculations.
- Reserve certifications during due diligence in mergers or acquisitions.
- Reserve certifications with coverage analysis in anticipation of portfolio transfers or run-offs.
- Independently retained or court-appointed bankruptcy estimations of professional liability self-insured exposures, with analysis of other available insurance coverages.
- Captive feasibility studies during formation or new member consideration.
- Audit of underlying layers of insurance to estimate likelihood of per-occurrence piercing per claim and aggregate.

Innovative partnerships

Sedgwick has many tools and talents available to help analyze and assess professional liability claim issues and exposures, including those pertinent to hospitals and health systems, physician practices, elder care facilities, insurance services, allied health, pharmacy, lab, home health, TPA services, managed care, prison health and more.

Sedgwick's services include on-site or remote audits, a comprehensive written analysis, follow-up consultations and planning and implementing action plans. Because we believe that each client and each project is unique, Sedgwick will customize our service to fit your specific needs. In this way, our focused and efficient services and analysis can maximize the outcomes for each project.

Contact Sedgwick today to learn more about the services available to confirm the financial health of a claims program.

866-225-9951

Professional.Liability@sedgwick.com

www.sedgwick.com