Expertise to support your goals

We provide local, personalized services nationwide and our team has expertise in all lines of coverage for a wide array of industries. With the broadest, most comprehensive suite of risk control services available in the marketplace today, Sedgwick helps clients control their risks and achieve key business objectives.

Improve underwriting profits

Our customized risk assessments identify any risks that fall outside the underwriting guidelines. Accurate data and timely information make underwriting decisions more profitable.

Improve loss ratios

Sedgwick's loss control consulting services offer the expertise and data needed to reduce the frequency and severity of losses.

Improve productivity and efficiency

Our technology automates time-consuming tasks, so underwriters are more prepared to do what they do best – assess risk, build critical agency relationships and write profitable business for their company. The system can also assess underwriting guideline compliance across your book of business and strategically profile insureds for future underwriting or risk control efforts.
