Data and the digital experience

We leverage data and insights to ensure our actions align with your objectives, and we provide an innovative digital experience for both employee and employer. In-depth reports provide insight into absence patterns and help place focus on the data that matters most, so you can make informed decisions. Sedgwick invests in a proprietary claims system that automatically determines accurate eligibility, entitlements and benefit calculations for disability and multiple leave programs. With all absence data in one place, you and your employees will have real-time visibility into claim information, anytime you want — so you won't miss a beat.
