Why hire additional experts? Let Sedgwick be your single source for forensic accounting and business income services. Our trained accountants have the expertise to investigate claims of all sizes including large, complex losses.

Our accountants have in-depth experience in the following financial areas:

- Measurement of economic damages
- Appropriate calculations of co-insurance, waiting period deductibles and other conditions
- Elimination of duplicate payments
- Determination of alternative means to measure losses when traditional documentation is unavailable
- Measurement of losses that cannot be physically observed
- Working with insureds to mitigate time element losses

Our expert team investigates various types of claims and specializes in key areas including:

- Time element analysis
- Employee dishonesty
- Inventory analysis
- Loss of income calculation
- Extra expense calculation
- Scheduling property damage
- Builder's risk
- Loss of rent
- Theft

We combine the personal touch of a small firm with the resources and reach of a global company.

Our goal is to accurately measure the financial impact of an event on your business, while providing consistent, high-quality service.
